Does this time work to check-in on the upcoming (but not yet scheduled(?)) briefing on Washington and Idaho for Anna? I've pasted Erica's note below. Perhaps we could use this time to discuss developing the legal risk component. We'd done a legal risk assessment for Idaho (attached) but that was based on defending in Maine. Leah, correct me if I'm wrong but I don't think we've ever done a legal risk assessment for Washington?

Erica's Email:

R10 folks,

I've been asked to put in a briefing request to brief Anna the week of 11/19 on WA and ID, with options and associated legal risk. We should also think about how those options play out depending on which option we take in Maine. We'll be briefing on Maine the week before (week of 11/12).

I'll put in the briefing request for this, but FYI I'll be at a conference next week (with periodic email access) Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP)

Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) So I'll need to work with you guys next week to get it written up, and then I'm hoping R10 can take the pen the week of 11/12 (working with Corey) and make sure it's ready to go for the briefing. I'm assuming we'll start with the most recent options papers (attached), merge into one (Anna prefers PPT, so I'll start with that), and also make sure we're consistent with the language we used in the Maine paper (see below).

Let me know if you have any questions/comments/thoughts!

-Erica
